RIO DE JANI PO, SETEMBER 7th, (So);

PRESIDENT Prindente de Moraes, when he took office on Nov. 14, 1894, found the country in a wretched condition. The baneful influence of the execrable methods to which tyrants resort for the purpose of maintaining their authority had produced a state of mental and moral anarchy in which the deterioration of national character had made rapid and alarming progress.

Fortunately, under the new administration, there set in a vigorous and salutary reaction which, had it been properly stimulated, guided and utilized, might perhaps have obliterated the blighting effects of corruption and terblighting effects of corruption and ter-ror aud resulted in complete political regeneration. This desideratum, how-ever, is still far from having been at-tained, and the deleterious consequences of despotic rule continue to poison with their deadly virus every part of the national organism.

national organism.

Of this we have just had a striking exemplification. Some weeks ago one of the journals of this city informed the public that it had in its possession documents showing that persons here were giving aid and comfort to the fanatics in Bahia. The documents, it stated, consisted of a letter and several enclosures. closures.

O N. 72

If in the opinion of the police authorities the matter required investigation, their proper course, it seems to us, would have been to proceed with the utmost circumspection to ascertain the origin, nature and legal value of the documents, so that in the case of the discovery of indications of a crime—the only hypothesis is which the discovery of indications of a crime—the only hypothesis in which the action of the police is admissible—they might take the ulterior steps warranted by the circumstances and authorized by the laws of the country. This view of the question is, we think, so natural as to be almost intuitive, and yet it does appear to have occurred to those authorities, whose first step, if we are correctly informed, was to arrest a suspected person, incarcerate him, prevent him person, incarcerate him, prevent him from communicating with his friends and subject him to an inquisitorial examinatiou.

How long this unfortunate man was deprived of his liberty, while the police authorities were unsuccessfully engaged in trying to discover some proof of his having committed a crime, we are not informed; but, no such proof having been discovered, he was finally released, and then it was that those authorities proceeded to do what they should have done at first. In order to ascertain the origin of the documents they endeavored to learn how they had come into the possession of the journal which had informed the public of their existence, and, as there was a post-mark on the envelope, inquiries were made at the post-office.

The result of this investigation is

The result of this investigation is contained in a report made to the chief of police by Police Delegate Vicente Neiva, who says that the editor of the journal refuses to disclose the name of the person from whom he received the documents, and that the envelope, al-though it has the post-mark used for registered postal matter, was never registered nor did it even pass through the post-office.

The report leaves the question at this point; but, as the journal that has figured so conspicuously in the affair has made some additional statements, it is possible that the investigation may continue. If such should be the case, it is to be hoped that the authorities will not again resort to any of the despotic methods which three years ago excited so much horror.

That horror continues to be felt and

That horror continues to be felt, and the factors of the reaction to which it led, although their vigor has diminished, aed, atthough their vigor has diminished, are still at work. Even Congressman Clycerio opposes such methods, which, as he justly asserted in a recent speech in the chamber of deputies, are degrading to governments that resort to them. And there certainly is no doubt of the abhorrence with which they are regarded abnorrence with which they are regarded by all who cherish liberal principles, desire the trimmph of public morality and are interested in the present and future welfare of the Brazilian nation.

THE WAR INBAHIA

THE WAR IN BAHIA

The uninster of war, who left Bahia on the 30th ult, arrived on the 1st inst at Quelmadas, where he remained until the 4th, when he set out for Monte Santo.

While at Queinnadas he had occasion to question some prisoners, consisting of 9 women and 6 children, who had arrived from Canudos. One of them, a boy of 8 years of age, on being asked whether the fanates had mined the ground at Canudos, is reported to have answered:—"If it is hard for them to get enough powder for their guns, it is not likely that they will bury it."

At Canudos a girl, whom Gen. Arthur Oscar in them to get chough powder for their guns, it is not likely that they will bury it."

At Canudos a girl, whom Gen. Arthur Oscar had threatened to shoot, calmly replied:—

"I am not afraid of death. I have already died three times."

The war department is beginning to receive the official lists of the killed and wounded. A letter of the 21st nit. from Monte Santo estimates the total loss of the government troops in killed and wounded up to the 14th at 3,795. In the battle of July 18 the government troops, according to this letter, lost in killed and wounded 1.01. The lists received by the war department contain the names of 53 officers killed and fog wounded and over 2,000 enlisted men killed and wounded. At ledgram of the 4th iust, states that the government troops lost 45 killed and 85 wounded between Aug. 8 and 28.

Troops have been sent against a body of fanatics at Sant' Anna do Brejo.

Although large quantities of supplies have been sent to Canudos. However, and the supplies sent has been coptured by the fanatics.

S. E. COAST OF AMERICA SQUADRON REGATTA.

On Thursday the 26th Angust the Annual Regatta for rowing boats of the South East coast of America Squadron took place. The weather, which had been beautiful during the previous week, broke up on that day, and it pourel with rain. For about a mouth before the eventful day every evening had seen the various boats of the different ships, with rews of bluejackets, narines, stokers, idlers or officers, practising for the races. Few opportunities had occurred of exercisting in rought vater, as Rio Harbour is so constantly still, but on Thursday the sea was heavy enough to render the test of the endurance of the several crews tolerably severe. The ships taking part in the Regatta were the sketribution, a "Swalows, "Basiliska, albeagles, and (in two races only) the "Wyes. The Senior Naval Officer, Cupitain Charles J. Norcock, R. N.) and officers of the affection had asked their friends on board to luncheon and witness the Regatta, but the inclemency of the wenther unfortunately prevented a good unany people from taking advantage of the invitation. Those who did come were unade as confortable as possible under the awnings, but it is feared that most of them went home that evening with wet feet.

Among the ladies and gentlemen present were noticed Mr. Arthur S. Raikes, Her Majesty's charge'd affairs, Mr. and Mrs. Vouta, Mrs. Hadson, Dr. and Mrs. Masury of the U. S. A. Yacht "Brunthildes, Capitain Mr. Nell and Officers of the Brazilian cruisers a Tradentessand Benjamin Constants, and Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. David Regating Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. David Regat

The failure of the «Whalers» to gain more prizes is due to the fact that she has only just commissioned, and her crew have not yet had time to settle down. The «Wye » being a bird of passage, her crew had not been able to practice. The «Retribution » did best,—which may be attributed to the fact that she has been longer in commission than the other ships, and has a larger ship's company from which to pick her crew, but the «Beagle » ran her very close indeed.
